A Word From Your President

First things first, I'll probably be a grandmother by the time I do the next newsletter, expect a picture of my little man. Yes, El Sprague has a new grandson, congratulations, there, grandpa.

October went by so fast. The roast beef dinner went ok, we had a wonderful turnout of Lions and spouses, thank-you all for your hard work, but not a big crowd, so the dinner was not as big a success as it could have been. Thank-you, Marty for doing the PR. We were lucky enough to have both new rescues come to our first dinner meeting so that we could see the beautiful new trucks, as well as the two new stretchers that we purchased for them. They are some nice pieces of equipment, and worth every penny. We know that they will serve the town well, with such dedicated people manning the rescue. We are in the process of getting some small Lions decals to go on all the stretchers that we have bought. Our guests were Tony Attardo and Bob Hawkes. They told us about our rescue and the student rescue program. Funding for the student rescue has been cut from the budget this year, so our board of directors voted to donate $500 to the program to help them with about a third of their annual expenses. The board of directors also ok'd $250 to go to Kevin and the Standish Lions' Lori's Kids Project. It is a fabulous program that gives great pleasure to many mentally challenged children and adults, by giving them Halloween and Christmas parties. Thank-you Lion Derrek for running the board of directors meeting for me while I was out of state on vacation. I know that you did a great job. Way to go! Our last meeting was our Halloween party, and I must say that I was very impressed with the costumes. You all did a wonderful job getting into the spirit of the night. We're going to have a coup and throw Red Green out of Possum Lodge, though. It was wonderful to have our District Governor, Lynda Buckinger with us to witness our craziness. I ran into Doc and Phyllis out shopping on Saturday and promised Doc that I would give him a Doc dollar, but he can't get a free meal with it like Len (peace, man) and Ralph (Mr. Cool) can. Now, about the Health Fair.

There were 5 Lions from our club there, me (and I brought Peter), Grant (who brought his son Barry to do the diabetes testing), Jan, Bill P., and John M., two Lions from Windham, our Vice District Governor, Clyde Ricker, who came after the White Cane Walk to run the MTI vision screening imager (and he brought Tony Ackerman to help him find his way to our den, and then home again). Carolee Roberts-Black came to do massages, Marilyn Paige was representing the Maine Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association, and Dr. Liem came to run the Glaucoma machine. We had 5 people show up. A couple brought their 2 grandchildren to get the vision test, and Marilyn's daughter came for a massage. What a disappointment. Everyone was very encouraging though, they told me to try it again, but in a more public place, maybe where something else was already going on. So, we have been given permission to do the children's vision screening again, at the Christmas tree lighting. We'll need both Gorham and Windham's machines for that one. And we are going to be allowed to

Recipe of the Month

Herbed Turkey Roll

1 6-lb turkey breast, skin and bone removed
½ tsp dried rosemary, crumbled
½ tsp dried oregano
½ tsp dried thyme
¼ tsp garlic powder
salt and pepper to taste

Preheat oven to 350° .

Using a sharp knife, make a lengthwise slit in the turkey breast, as if creating a pocket. Do not cut all the way through. Open at the pocket and lay flat.

Place turkey between 2 pieces of wax paper. Flatten with a mallet to about 1-1/2 inches thick.

Sprinkle spices evenly over turkey.

Starting at one end, roll turkey like a jelly roll. Tie with cord in 3 or 4 places.

Wrap turkey securely in aluminum foil and place in a shallow baking pan.

Bake 2 hours. Makes 12 to 14 servings. Leftovers make great sandwiches.

Pumpkin Custard Cups

1 pkg orange-flavored gelatin (sugar-free)
¾ c boiling water
½ c part-skim ricotta cheese
1 c canned pumpkin
1 tsp vanilla extract
½ tsp ground cinnamon

In a small saucepan, dissolve gelatin in boiling water.

In a blender container, combine gelatin mixture with remaining ingredients. Blend until smooth.

Divide mixture evenly into 4 individual bowls or sherbet glasses.

Chill until firm.

This dessert is moist and cheesecake-like, and doubling the recipe will fill a 9-inch pie crust.

World's Stupidest Criminals

Back in 1989, David Beresford robbed a savings and loan in Plymouth, England, of $550, using a rolled-up newspaper that he pretended was a weapon. The cashier at the time was Heather McIndoe, who happened to be married to a Criminal Investigations Department officer. Beresford was caught and sent to jail for 5 years. Within a few months of his early release, he walked into a different savings and loan in April 1993, thrust his hand into his jacket pocket, and appeared to be pointing something at the cashier. Taking no chances, she handed over nearly $400. Then she informed the police that the robber was David Beresford. Although she'd changed jobs in the meantime, she was Heather McIndoe, who'd recognized him from the previous time he'd robbed her.

A gun-toting mugger made a bad mistake in March 1994 when he held up a man who was walking home through an alley in West Virginia. Finding his victim was carrying only $13, he demanded a check for $300. The man wrote out the check, and the thief was caught the next day when he tried to cash it. As the cops said afterward, "The crook wasn't very bright."

Kippy's Thanksgiving

Kippy's Thanksgiving is not like everyone else's. When Kippy and his family sit down to their feast, they are continuing a longtime family tradition of spending Thanksgiving right here in Scarborough.. Both Kippy and Nancy have had family in this town for hundreds of years. What a special joy! How many of us have that? We gypsies cannot know the thrill of seeing the same landscape and the same faces for all of our lives. (?) Genealogy is have Bessworth School during the Winter Carnival, in February, to put on another FREE Health Fair. We'll need both machines then too. Now here is something for all of you to think about. Community Services wants a decision from us on just what our duties are and just what we want their duties to be for the Christmas tree lighting. They want us to decide who does what. SO, WHAT DO YOU SAY. The tv station handles the entertainment , tv crew and televising the event. We're talking, the candy and bagging it, our raffle, getting Santa, as well as a chair for him, coordinating the Explorers to do photos, and cop cards, the Dare Van to bring Santa and Kippy to perform his magic. It is time to make a decision. Please plan to discuss this at the next meeting, come prepared to let me know which way we go. See you Thursday, bye for now.

the documenting of family history and their migrations. Having your lineage stay forever in the same town certainly simplifies the search, to say nothing of what it does for some family trees. Scarborough has had many of the same family names here since the 1500-1600's. Think of it, Kippy, you and others like you, will sit down to enjoy your turkey (shot by Jerry Butts no doubt), knowing that your great, great, great,... grandparents, sat down to their turkey (probably not shot by Jerry Butts), right here, in the same town, a long time ago. They quite possibly even shared their dinner with Indians. They would have been wearing those old -fashioned Pilgrim clothes , with the oversized peter pan collars, and discussing the people from away. Do you suppose they felt like they were dressed in costume for the dress rehearsal of a TV sit-com or something? Do you think they ever considered escaping? Did those funny shoes with the big buckles hurt their feet? And what do you suppose native Americans thought of us, because after all, we're all from away. Whether it be from Ireland, England, Africa or New York, some time between the 1500's and now, a member of our family was transplanted here, and thus began our family history in Scarborough. So, when we all sit down to our Thanksgiving bird (definitely not all shot by Jerry Butts), let's all be thankful that the only people not from away, allowed us squatters to stay in this beautiful town we now call home.

P.S. don't tell the Kipster that he is from away.

Answers

1. Honey. Archaeological digs at ancient tombs have turned up honey that is still totally edible.
2. In Super Bowl XII (1978), Harvey Martin and Randy White, both of the Dallas Cowboys, led their team with a strong defense to beat the Denver Broncos. They were both named MVP.
3. Although John Denver wrote "Leaving on a Jet Plane," it was the trio who brought this single to number one for two weeks in 1970. By October it was a gold record.
4. Eight, seven passengers and the bus driver.
